

You just took a picture of me five years ago. Nothing has changed. Why do you need another picture?

You gotta get a picture of this guy when you can...

I just love it when somebody else makes lunch!

Don't be afraid, the first meal is free...

Oh, I see, the tomatoes go on the side of the salad. It is so good to learn from older Rotarians.

I was just walking by and somebody invited me to lunch!

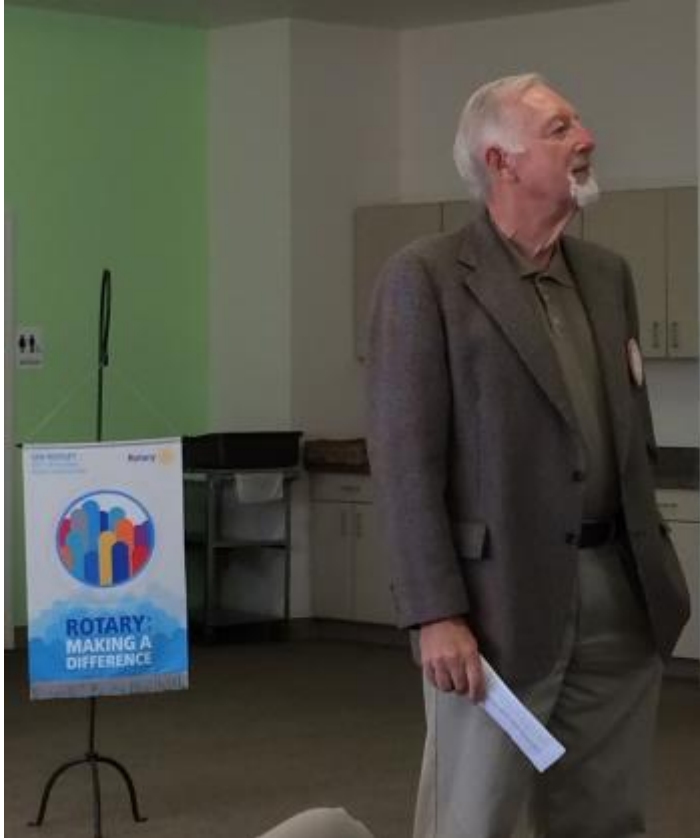

Here's the deal: We buy the old Railroad Terminal, turn it into a car museum. You guys put up all the money and I'll drive the cars.

Have I showed you my impression of a post?

The right reverend talks about some wrong turns he might have made when not listening to plans from on high.
