La Grande Middle School/Drug Free Youth Program

Some of the visiting Rotarians look suspicious. Glenn's mug must have matched a "most wanted" poster.

The long walk to the cafeteria line.

It may be difficult to tell the difference, but this photo shows both middle school students and Rotarians.

Student leaders describe what they like about the DFY Club and the impact it has on their life.

Jessy pumps up the students who presented with pizza coupons.

And, after lunch, it is time for two friends to walk home.
