

Rotary 5-8-18

“Welcome to Rotary. You are the lucky winner. “ Nate finds out the hard way that he was nominated for several jobs for the upcoming Rotary year to the delight of Jessie, Eric, Spencer, and Jeff.

“Surely you take me for a fool! I will not pay this bill!” Jim gives a look of distaste while Spencer meekly offers his paperwork. Craig, deer in the headlights, Nightingale is stunned by the lens.

“Not a bill! A check!” Jim goes from sour puss to jovial joe in 3 seconds flat. Everyone is a great deal happier.

“I think I should have had the braised duck with roasted endive. What about you, Steve?”
Glenn considers the other options for lunch after staring at his cottage cheese.

“So, I heard you two are both interested in accounting. Would you like to see my spreadsheet on the advantages of a career in number crunching?” Makayla and Konnie politely listen to Michelle’s ideas about their futures.

“I now you want some.” Eric taunts Glenn with a chance to win at 50-50. Steve avoids eye contact in hopes of saving a few ill-spent dollars.

“Ah, what’s the take today? Magic bucket, man! Sell worthless pieces of paper! Maybe I should give up my day job and do this full time!” Eric superintends the 50-50 revenues.

“To be, or not to be. That is the question!” Brett demonstrates how he plans on adding content to La Grande Alive video streaming that will catapult his viewership.
