

Rotary 7-10-18

President Joel queues up his presentation. No soup for you!

Mary asks whether we are going to have crab today. Deb reminds her that in Rotary we don't crab, carp, or whine.

Craig demonstrates the depth of taxes to show that if they go over Tucker's head, they are too high.

"You say you're from Wallowa eh? Well sit down pardner, you can eat with us anyway." Glenn welcomes a visitor.

Stacey is just a bit too pleased to have her picture taken—careful, she is probably on the edge of exploding.

“Want to hear an accountant joke?” Mike asks Michelle. “Why was the accountant so excited that he completed a jigsaw puzzle in only 59 weeks? Because on the box it said 8-12 Years.” Michelle replied, “I don’t get it.”

Poster child for "Be a Rotarian" recruitment month.

Shy Nathan tries to stay inconspicuous between Jessy and Ryan, two other introverts.

"Here's the new centerfold of the Rock and Mineral magazine. Look at those curves on that agate!" Craig describes some mineral beauties to Michael.

We are not sure why Dale Basso has such a big picture this week. He will be getting enough advertisement next week as the vocational presentation—alas, you can never get enough Basso!

Zee is ready to dig herself some grub at the upcoming Rotary Barbeque.

Mike Moeller is thinking, "Man, what I could do with 9 dollars." Michael holds up his 50-50 winnings.

“Your honor, I’d like this to be placed into evidence. This picture shows that I not only can tell a good fish story, but I can also show a good fish story in pictures!”

Joel reads the list of things that he will do in 2018-19 as president of the club.

Why stay in Rotary? What is your reason?
