

Rotary 7-17-18

When asked about the weather forecast, Braden shows his meteorological move. To give a prognostication of the temperature for the day--he looked outside.

“In my expert opinion, the forecast is ‘hot’!” Now we know what data he uses to report the radio weather! Nice move, Braden!

“You really want to see my moves? All right, but I warned you!” Shawn prepares to dazzle Rotarians with his patented ‘move.’

“I told you. This is my ‘Don’t mess with me look’. What do you think? Awesome, right?”

Not to be outdone, Sandra shows her moves. We think this might be her anniversary dance.

“Moves, I’ll show you moves. I’m going to fill up this pig with money to fight polio. That’s my move.” Zee concentrates on pushing folding money into the Foundation pig.

Makayla--a great ambassador to Chile this fall! Jeri--a great ambassador for Rotary in the community!

Heather, center, surrounded by daughter, Eleana, and friend, Jeanne Murphy.

Jessy talks with our guest presenters from the Wallowa club.

Rick Swinehart and Eric Bombaci report to the club about the Wheeler Memorial Bridge and its history as well as plans to relocate the structure.

