

Rotary Feb 2, 2019

“What’s this bill for 2 dozen red roses?” Craig questions a DDD receipt from Jessy and wonders whether Heather can explain the expense.

“Here’s today’s bulletin. Mostly pictures this week. I know how Rotarians dislike words....”

“Oh goodie, you’ll have tea at my table.” Mary invites Shawn to join her, Pooh, and Christopher Robin at her table.

Ready for Broadway, Jean and Heather belt out :“Hello Dolly...” Careful, “Dolly” is lurking in the background

The only appropriate caption here is.... "Aw!" The Watsons.

"C is for Cookie!" Dave, Cookie Monster, Koza goes for the sweets.

“I’m not sure what it is Glenn. Might be edible. You try it.” Michael and Glenn scope-out the mystery meat.

The taco bar is serious business. Jim and Dale prepare their ingredients with the precision of bomb makers.

No kneeling, no fists in the air, no protests, just Rotarians honoring each other by saying the pledge.

“I only fell two times.” Maria tells about her ski excursion with the other exchange students.

“Where’s Waldo?”...I mean, Watson.

Jessy, Heather, Michelle, and Shawn worked six months and pulled-off an amazing DDD weekend! A balloon and a vase of flowers was their reward—oh yes, and the heartfelt thanks of club!

Judge Russ "Edmund Hillary" West gives a presentation on Mt. Kilimanjaro

Judge West's personal porter for the presentation, Judge Valentine, carried the load of changing the slides.
