Evelyn today said she recognized Dave from the Vegetarians Club, but he swore he'd never met herbivore. Tim wonders with her new marriage, whether Evelyn got a new name and a dress.

When Dale saw his first strands of grey hair, he thought he'd dye.

Michael: I didn't like my beard at first. Then it grew on me. Dale: No matter how much you push the envelope, it'll still be stationery.

Jessy: Did you hear about the man who fell into a lens grinding machine and made a spectacle of himself? Brent: Tell Alex the one about the crossed-eyed teacher who lost her job because she couldn't control her pupils?

Shawn: I know a guy who's addicted to drinking brake fluid, but he says he can stop any time. Spencer: That's nothing, I know a dentist and a manicurist that got married and they fought tooth and nail. Stacey: Well I know this fellow, he had his entire left side was cut off. He's all right now.

Jeff: A bicycle can't stand alone; it's just two tired. Evelyn: I stayed up all night to see where the sun went, and then it dawned on me.

Craig: I'm reading a book about anti-gravity. I just can't put it down. Jeff: Well I got some batteries free of charge the other day.

Graham: They laughed when I said I could play the piano, and when I sat down, they split.

Dave: There's a dead cat in the piano, Graham. That reminds me of the guy who fell onto an upholstery machine last week and is now fully recovered.

Those who get too big for their pants will be totally exposed in the end. Jessy and Patrick sporting 38's.

Techno man Glenn: I changed my iPod's name to Titanic. It's syncing now.
